FOREWORD

"Climb every mountain,
Ford every stream,
Follow every rainbow,
'Till you find your dream."

This world is full of mountains to climb and great heights to achieve. There are mountains of trouble and disappointment, but these, with God's help are easily overtaken.

Before us lies the invitation to the greatest challenge on earth--the challenge of making God's love known to every human inhabitant on this earth. This requires much self-sacrifice, but the reward is worthwhile.

The "pot-of-gold" which lies at the end of the rainbow of success is not hard to reach if we will only try.

The students of San Diego Academy have set their goal high in trying to achieve the dream all of us want to take part in--the eternal heavenly goal.

Dedication

There is a corner on this campus where there rules a man of great talents. He has a warm friendliness about him that everyone has learned to love. Each day we look forward to entering his class and finding a novel quotation displayed on the board.

Mr. York, you have challenged our minds and inspired each of us to think. Yet, through all this difficult learning, you have been patient and willing to help anyone who comes to you. Is it any wonder that we, the students of San Diego Academy, want to dedicate this year's Lighthouse to you, in order to show you how much we appreciate and respect your ability to be a teacher as well as a friend?

Lighthouse Staff

School Board

A life without a challenge is like a sailing yacht without a wind. It gets nowhere. Without the challenge of the mountain, man remains hidden in the valley. Wherever there are mountains, man will respond with courage, with resourcefulness, with imagination, and with fortitude to their challenge.

Dear Student:

By putting this academy year behind you, you have climbed another mountain on the road to success. As your principal, I wish to congratulate you on this accomplishment. We can say together, "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory ..." (1Cor. 15:57)

You must determine to advance continually in your march for learning. You must develop to the fullest your every talent. "Neglect not the gift that is within thee." (1 Tim. 4:14)

Advance! Climb! higher and higher. There is no limit to the development of the mind. The quality of your thoughts determine your personality and character. Descartes, the famous French philosopher, said, "I think, therefore I am." To learn to think is to learn to live.

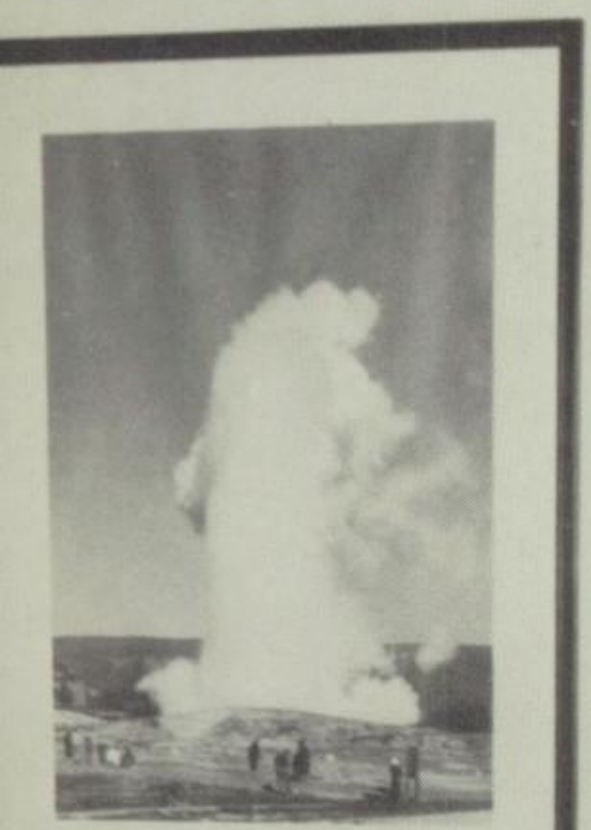
Elementary



Achieving great heights can be possible only by keeping one's eyes on the goal ahead. As the mountain climber winds his way up the treacherous mountainside, he is encouraged onward only by keeping the summit in sight. If he should look back over the portion of the trail already covered, he would most likely lose his determination and return to the base completely discouraged.

In preparation for the climb to the summit, the mountain climber must be certain his pack is made up of equipment suitable for the feat he seeks to accomplish. The same is true in our every day lives. Each of us must decide for himself what his goal in life will be. Then we must prepare ourselves by means of the best possible education. Determine for yourselves a summit, or life goal. With eyes forward and head held high, by the help of God, your highest ambitions will be reached.

"It takes the best to reach the top"

Ever try to climb a mountain with other people? If you have, chances are the group got smaller and smaller until just the best made it to the top.

Food products are like mountain climbers... only the best, like Loma Linda Foods, get to the top and stay there year after year. Enjoy the tops in good eating with Loma Linda Foods.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I have enjoyed every minute that it has taken to complete this annual, but it couldn't have been possible without the help of those who did so much to aid in the publication of this book. Among these people are Mr. F. Lee Harrel who contributed the beautiful picture that was used as our endsheet; and two of my peers, Dennis Wilcox and Lon Neuman, who designed the very unusual and attractive cover. Mr. Pierce, I would also like to especially thank you for all your time and effort. It is true that little things mean a lot.

And thank you, staff, for a job well done.
